Dr. Marcia McFee

Description

Do you have a love and talent for sensory-rich worship? Do you have a passion for helping churches revitalize their worship life through all the worship arts? Intern this summer with Dr. Marcia McFee in the Worship Design Studio! By working at least 10 hours per week, you will gain experience in resourcing and coaching congregations utilizing Dr. McFee's consulting methods, online resource library, webinar technology, and the new Design App. Five positions available. These are non-paying internships, however, if you want course or field education or continuing education credit, I am willing to work with your seminary or governing body to provide that. Recommendation and worship design/leadership experience required.

Tasks

During the course of the internship you will coach worship teams that are members of the Worship Design Studio (WDS) utilizing my consultation materials and by:

- engaging in conversation with them by e-mail and video conference
- creating coaching plans to assist them in their continued education utilizing the resources in WDS
- developing new entries in WDS by researching reliable and recommended resources
- engaging in the coaching "small bites" on WDS social media (contributing to FB, Twitter, Pinterest)
- other duties that may come up that either you will creatively suggest or we will discover together
